

The Baby Nurse, Where Babies Are Our Business

November 12, 2010

To Whom It May Concern:

Elvilara Richards (Elvie) stayed with us for six weeks following the birth of our first child and, based on our experience, we simply cannot recommend her highly enough to any family looking for a baby nurse.

Elvie is a very kind, optimistic person, at once energetic and relaxed. The baby was visibly calm and happy in her arms from the very beginning. Elvie was a pleasure to live with and has a wonderful sense of humor. A natural teacher, Elvie made sure we understood the best practices for all aspects of baby care, and she helped us to feel comfortable and confident in our roles as new parents. In the early days, when I was recovering from a C-section, Elvie took care of the baby so that I was able to rest and, in later weeks, she read and sang to the baby so that I was able to work. When we had friends and relatives visiting to meet the baby, Elvie always pitched in so that we were all able to enjoy our time with the baby as much as possible.

Elvie taught me so much about being a mother, and we all miss having her with us. We wholeheartedly recommend her to any family.

Sincerely,

Katherine and Paul
