TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Consuelo and Elvie worked with us for six months, and having had several experiences with other night nurses, we can unequivocally say that they are the best.

They are incredibly loving and kind, extremely knowledgeable, responsible, trustworthy, hard working, attentive, and so easy to be around. From the very beginning (our children were preemies - and they have NICU experience), they kept the babies healthy and calm while also stimulating them, reading to them, singing to them, and always managing to somehow hold them both. The babies had acid reflux and many feeding issues and so the expertise, patience, and consistency were invaluable. It turned out that our pediatrician even knew Elvie because she had been to our doctor's office with so many NYC babies.

All two nurses were very respectful of my wishes and requests. They got the twins on an excellent/convenient schedule right away and were supportive of my breast feeding plans. They have many years of twins experience and have also done triplets.

All of their references are impeccable and it seems like everyone they have worked for wants them to stay longer. They all have boundless energy and seem to need virtually no sleep. They not only look after the babies, but also look after the mother and are incredibly helpful in many capacities. We can't recommend them highly enough, and we are extremely picky!
