TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My husband and I were lucky enough to have Consuelo with us for the first two weeks of our daughter, Vivienne's life. As first time parents, we were really concerned about taking care of a newborn and all that goes along with it. Consuelo taught us what we needed to know and gave us the confidence to know we could handle it on our own. She was such a calming, encouraging presence that it was hard to believe there was a newborn in the house.. it was such a relaxing and serene environment.

We trusted her guidance and her experience and we were well rewarded with a happy, growing baby that was sleeping through the night right from the start. She also got me started breastfeeding and building a supply for when I would eventually go back to work.

Consuelo is extremely organized and very professional. She was wonderful with Vivienne and you can tell she really enjoys babies and takes pride in her work. She has a great personality, very strong family values and we really enjoyed having her in our home.

We couldn't recommend her enough and only hope that we can have her be part of our family again.
