To Whom It May Concern:

We highly recommend Aulda Thorpe Hayes as a baby nurse for your newborn baby. We hired Aulda as a night nurse for our second child, as we only needed help at night for the first few weeks.

Aulda is very knowledgeable about taking care of newborns...she has a very calming demeanor and was great with our son. In addition, Aulda is a registered nurse so we felt very comfortable that she knew exactly how to care for a newborn and would know what to do if there were any issues (which thankfully there weren't!). She was great in caring for our son after his circumcision and was gentle and patient with him, and us! We didn't have to worry about our son once we went to sleep at night - we knew our baby was in very capable hands. And...Aulda was very supportive of my breastfeeding the baby and would wake me as needed to feed him in the night.

She kept a log of all the feedings, diaper changes and sleeping schedule, which was very helpful too. Aulda was very attentive to the baby, and was also very flexible and would adjust her hours according to our schedules - if we needed her longer, she would stay to help us. She is reliable and punctual and was very clean - always used Purell before touching the baby. She is a lovely person, was great with our daughter too and played with her on occasion, and is a great baby nurse.
