

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is in reference to Simone King, who has been my daughter's baby nurse since she was born on May 26, 2010. Simone arrived the day she was born and stayed for a total of 8 weeks. As I sit here and write this recommendation for Simone, I cannot begin to express my utter gratitude for all that she did for both me and my whole family.

Being that this was my first child I was very worried about breast feeding, bathing and taking care of my newborn. Simone did so many things to not only educate us, but to support our family through the first tough weeks of bringing a newborn home. She cared for our baby 20 hours a day, seven days a week for the whole 8 weeks and never showed signs of being tired. In regard to the care of our infant, she is by far the most relaxed, caring, patient, smart person I have ever met. Simone took care of every aspect of her care during the entire 8 weeks. She was able to schedule her day (keeping detailed records) so that by the time she left my daughter was sleeping 8 hours in the night.

Simone is also a wonderful resource for new products for the baby. She recommended and sold me a Snurser, which is a padded arm sleeve which is used for comfort while bottle feeding or nursing. This item is a God send! Simone made me feel like no question or concern was unjustified and her knowledge of the care for children is unsurpassed. Even now after she has left, I feel that I can give her a call when I have a doubt or concern about the baby and she is happy to talk things through with me.

I welcome any prospective parents to please call me for a reference. Simone is one of a kind, a true professional, a wonderful caregiver and a friend. I recommend her fully and feel truly lucky that she came into our lives.

Sincerely,
Tiffany (first time mom)
